In answer to so many of your queries, I thought I'd use my column this month to talk about the creation of some Harvey comic book characters.

Many of you have written in asking who created Richie Rich and Casper and Hot Stuff and Wendy and each and every one of the Harvey characters.

Well, for the most part, their creation was the collaboration of several people, as I would guess most comic book creations have been and are. In addition, the strength of a comic book character doesn't end with merely its creation. That's simply where it begins. The development of that character is more important than its creation.

Having said that, let me relate Casper the Friendly Ghost's history. A very wonderful and talented man named Joe Oriolo is given credit as having created Casper during the late 1940s. This, despite the fact that a terrific artist named Seymour Reit is said to have made the first drawings of Casper for Joe Oriolo.

Well for years Casper was done as an animated short for Paramount Pictures and as a comic book for a company called St. John's. Neither was very popular and neither, frankly, was that good. Casper's enormous and world-wide popularity did not begin until Harvey Comics took over the character and refashioned him for both comics and animated films.

Casper became a different character under Harvey tutelage—which also created characters such as Spooky, Wendy, Nightmare and the Ghostly Trio. Casper's change in look came from Warren Kremer, the master artist I've often mentioned, who transformed him from a peanut-shaped character to the friendly ghost we all recognize today. The story content and style came from writers such as Jim Miele, Ralph Newman and Stan Kay. (And, I'm delighted to add, I was the editor during all those years.)

It's impossible for me to remember who created what. I guess we didn't know at that time what soon-to-be-famous characters we were creating. It didn't really matter at the time who created what, but my guess is that we all took a hand in it.

I will say this, however: In his visual form, no one had more to do with Casper and the way we know him than Warren Kremer. No one had more to do with the fabulous background and the other characters that make up that world. And in regards to stories, it was Jim Miele's writing style—and his way with a fable—that gave Casper the sensitivity and the depth that has become the character's trademark.

I don't mean to belittle Casper's original creation. Without that, there would be nothing but a blank page, and the people who enhanced Casper couldn't work from a blank page. But it was the development of Casper that turned a dead little boy into a fantasy creature who had been born a ghost. And it was the development of Casper that turned a graveyard site into a haunted house built in a place called the Enchanted Forest. And it was the development of Casper that created Spooky, Wendy, Nightmare, The Ghostly Trio and all those other characters that made Casper...Casper.

I'll stop for now. On another day, I'll talk more about some of the other characters, some of the other creators and some very different stories.

I'm sure I will receive a great deal of mail regarding the above comments. I welcome it. In fact, we welcome any and all of your comments.

See you next time.

Dear Little Dot,
I love reading comics, especially your comics. I have a shirt that has a picture of you, and on the top it says Little Dot. I have a collection of all different comics. The stack is about 21 lines on a piece of paper high.
Love, April Ringelstetter, age 9
Baraboo, WI

Dear April,
Thank you for the kind words, April, and thank you for sending them on such pretty stationary! I really like the flowers that were on the paper since in the middle of every flower is a dot! Also, there are three holes punched on the side of the paper, and they're also in the shape of dots! Dots always bring me good luck, and this time they had a great fan like you write me!
Your friend, Dot

Dear Casper and Wendy,
I really enjoy your books. When I am bored, I take out the books to read them. I'm not the only one who reads them. My sisters Carol and Karen read them too. One of them doesn't know how to read, but she looks at the pictures. I got four books. One is Woody Woodpecker, one is Casper, one is Wendy, and one is Richie Rich. I'm glad that Casper is a kind ghost instead of a mean one. Wendy is kind too, but I don't like Wendy's aunties.
Jenny Mac, age 9,
Australia

Dear Jenny,
Wendy's aunties can be a little tough to put up with sometimes, Jenny, but just be glad there are only three of them! Wendy likes living with her auties because that way she can keep them out of trouble! (Every once in while she has to cast a perfume smell so their brew doesn't smell up the entire enchanted forest!) We're glad your little sister likes the pictures in our comic books, but why don't you read to her while she looks at the pictures? Reading a Harvey comic book is one of best ways to teach your sister how to read!
Your friend, Casper

Dear Harvey Comics,
I like your comics, especially Richie Rich, Little Dot, Wendy, Casper and Spooky. Speaking of Spooky, how does he disappear?
One of your fans,
Dalarie Peters, age 9 1/2
Bethel, Alaska

Dear Dalarie,
Disappearing isn't too difficult, Dalarie, it's appearing that takes some work! Ghosts are naturally invisible, we just turn visible when we want our friends to see us! Casper has so many friends that he stays visible almost all of the time! Now if Casper and I lived in the Great White North with all that snow like you do, Dalarie, nobody would ever be able to see us!
Your pal, Spooky

Dear Wendy,
I live on a houseboat in Yellowknife in Canada. I am 5 years old and everyday I wonder how many uncles you have. I have 6 uncles. The girl I'm going to marry is called Nico. She kissed me on my school bus on the way to school. I made my mom two earrings, but she lost one so I made her two new earrings today. I like reading your comics.
Love, Michael McGovern
Yellowknife, Canada

Dear Michael,
I know I have at least three aunties, Michael, but I'm not sure how many uncles I have! Why don't you start counting them as you see them in my comic! By the way, did you know that a boy witch is called a "warlock"! Now I have a question for you, Michael: Do you ever get seasickness when you go to sleep at night? Thanks for writing, and don't forget to say "Hi!" to Nico from me!
Your friend, Wendy

Dear Richie,
I love your comics! I just got through reading one about five minutes ago, and it was great. There is a boy on my street who claimed he was your twin brother. He looks just like you! Do you have a brother?
Your best #1 fan, Steven Hicks
Texarkana, TX

Dear Steven,
I don't have a twin brother, Steven, but my tricky cousin Reggie is always coming up with costumes and robots that look just like me! I've always wanted a brother or sister, but my mom and dad decided to get me Dollar instead! Thanks for the letter, Steven, but remember, if you see someone who looks likes me—look out! Cousin Reggie is probably behind it!
Your friend, Richie
